"The LEADER'S EDGE" by drmichaelbell

One of the great consistencies in almost a half-century of church leadership for me, is change. As most of us have been told or know experientially, change is an inevitable part of life, but knowing that doesn't mean dealing with change is easy.

It's no secret that most churches have an aversion to change. The late Lloyd John Ogilvie (September 2, 1930 – June 5, 2019), a Presbyterian minister who served as Chaplain of the United States Senate, spoke about the seven steps to stagnation in his sermon titled, "Seven Steps To Spontaneity." Ogilvie argued, "Stagnation is an inevitable result of thinking and saying the following: (1) We've never done it that way before; (2) We're not ready for that; (3) We're doing alright without it; (4) We've tried that once before; (5) It costs too much. (My paraphrase - We don't have money for that.); (6) That's not our responsibility; (7) It just won't work."

Churches aren't crazy in love with change. In fact most churches avoid changing at all cost, even if it means not growing. I've literally seen churches choose to close their doors over choosing to change. Too many churches waste time talking about the same issues they've been talking about for years. Some churches don't change because their structure won't allow it. Then, there are those congregations that make decisions based on who they're trying to keep rather than who they're trying to reach.

As much as the church often-times militates against meaningful change, truth is, the church in this country, the U.S., was already in the throes of change long before the onset of the novel coronavirus pandemic. According to a Gallup survey, in 2020, before the pandemic, only 47 percent of Americans belonged to a church, synagogue or mosque. Church attendance and membership involvement has been trending downward for decades.

But, there's no denying that the COVID-19 pandemic disrupted church participation for millions of Americans.

According to information collected in April/May 2020 by the Barna Group, one-in-three practicing Christians dropped out of church completely during COVID-19. Many Americans already had dropped out of church life before the pandemic. COVID-19 gave them a reason to let go completely. In other words, the novel coronavirus pandemic precipitated existing trends in declining church attendance. Consequently, the church has been forced to adapt, to change in many ways in order to continue its ministry.

You don't have to be a member of Mensa to know that change requires adjustments. As a pastor, I've encouraged our staff persons, ministry leaders, committee chairpersons and coordinators to think beyond the box. I want our leaders to be creative and innovative. Everything is on the table, except the message and the Gospel.

Leader, as you make the necessary adjustments in order to improve your ministry's effectiveness, don't forget how critical "vision" is to the process. Of course, there are other important considerations, but if you're going to lead change you must have a clear vision and strategies to communicate it. You know from your personal devotional reading that Jesus saw the big picture. He had a long term view and his vision helped him navigate changes, and lead others through too. Leading towards the vision means that when we propose or make changes, we are lead to people with us in a direction that they can see the same thing!

Speak Life Thought

with First Lady & Co-Pastor Yolanda G. Butler

An Everlasting Life

"For God so loved the world, that he gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

This precious scripture is probably the first passage we learn as children in Sunday School. Its truth is timeless. The greatest expression of love for all of humanity was demonstrated through the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ. With so much happening in our world today--school shootings, racial injustice, police brutality, a divided Congress, wars in various parts of the world, famine, hunger, homelessness, earthquakes, floods, unusual weather phenomena, COVID, disregard for authority, people calling right wrong and wrong right, etc.--the answer for this world we live in is Jesus.

By the disobedience of one man, Adam, did sin enter this world and man forfeited his original righteousness (Rom. 5:12). The penalty for disobedience is death and separation from the Creator. Our Heavenly Father loved man, whom he created in own His image, so much that He made a way to redeem us back from the hands of the devil. Jesus Christ, conceived of the Holy Spirit, born of a virgin (Mary), became the Living Word in a human body. He would be the Light of the World to light the heart of all mankind (John 1:9). He was despised and rejected (Isaiah 53:5), endured the cross, wounded for our wrongdoings, beaten for our sins yet was sinless, but for the joy that was set before Him, he took our place for the penalty of sin that we might be saved (Heb 12:2). "Jesus gave His life for our sins, just as God our Father planned, in order to rescue us from this evil world in which we live" (Galatians 1:4).

Jesus Christ is the way the truth and the life (John 14:6). He not only came to save but to heal and forgive. In order to make it in a world where sin exists, one needs a Savior in their life and that Savior is Jesus Christ, the Messiah. If you confess with your mouth that Jesus Christ is Lord and receive Him into your heart as Lord and Savior, you shall be saved (Romans 10:9) and inherit eternal life (John 3:16). Salvation ushers in peace with God (relationship) because of the Blood of the Lamb (Rom. 5:1). As a child of God, you can also enjoy the peace of God as you walk out your everyday life on this earth until your final resting place in eternity with Him (Col 3:15).

It is appointed unto man to die and then comes judgment (Hebrew 9:27). The Almighty God, the Creator of all life, gave man the gift of choice. As to everlasting life, there are only two choices: heaven or hell. If you choose to live for Christ, everlasting life in heaven is your home. If you reject Christ, everlasting life in hellfire is your destination. So dear hearts, choose this day whom you will serve. As for me and my house, we choose Jesus and everlasting life with Him.

Whitney Houston's family wants to highlight her gospel roots

By JONATHAN LANDRUM Jr.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Whitney Houston's brother remembers when his young sister listened to their mother during gospel rehearsals before she mimicked every tune that was sung.

As Houston rose to pop superstardom, her exceptionally talented vocals were rooted in gospel music. And now, her family — led by her sister-in-law Pat and brother Gary Houston — wants the foundation of her musical legacy to continue to live on through her new posthumous gospel album and documentary under the same name, "I Go to the Rock: The Gospel Music of Whitney Houston."

"Gospel was in her heart," said Gary Houston, who recalled his sister around the age of 5 wearing their mother Cissy Houston's wig and high heels while using a broom as a microphone. "We woke up to and went to sleep to gospel. She would sing exactly what she heard my mother and her siblings. No secular music. It was all gospel."

Pat Houston, the executor of Whitney Houston's estate, said she's excited for listeners to hear the six-time Grammy-winner's message of hope and faith and the influential mark gospel music had on her life and career through both projects, which both were released Friday last week. The documentary, hosted by CeCe Winans, aired on UPtv and AspireTV and will be available on DVD.

The singer's 14-track album features several tunes from notable soundtracks including "Jesus Loves Me" from "The Bodyguard," "His Eye Is on the Sparrow" from "Sparkle" along with "I Go to the Rock" and "Joy to the World" from "The Preacher's Wife" soundtrack — the best-selling gospel album of all time. The project also includes six unreleased tracks — three of which ("He Can Use Me," "I Found a Wonderful Way" and "Testimony") were recorded when she was 17 years old.

"You heard the innocence of her voice," said Pat Houston. "You could see where she started and how she ended up with all her hits throughout her career. Any song is a great song of Whitney Houston's. You heard her gospel roots all wrapped up in her music."

Whitney Houston first started singing at the New Hope Baptist Church in Newark, New Jersey, as a child. Between the mid-1980s to the late 1990s, she was one of the world's best-selling artists with her effortlessly powerful vocals rooted in the Black church but made palatable to the masses with her pop persona.

It understandably took time for the family to grieve after Whitney Houston's death in 2012. Her brother, Gary, said he still feels his sister's spirit whenever it rains, or when a bird visits him while he's at home adding that "when the doorbell rings, I think it's her."

But now, Gary and Pat Houston feel like they're in a better place. That's one of the reasons Pat felt now is the perfect time to release the gospel-centric projects — especially with Easter next month and Whitney Houston's 60th birthday celebration on the horizon in August.

"An Easter project is something she always wanted to do since her visit to Israel," Pat Houston said. "It never came into fruition. We're doing this all through Whitney's lens. It's special because this is her 60th birthday celebration. This project is definitely a labor of love for her. It represents her in such a very spiritual way."

Pat Houston said she hopes viewers can find closure through watching the documentary with several guest appearances including Jenifer Lewis, Kim Burrell and Kevin Costner. It features the singer's first-ever performance in front of an audience as well as many others including her singing "I Go to the Rock" with The Georgia Mass Choir on "Saturday Night Live" in 1996, "Jesus Loves Me" in Santiago, Chile, in 1994, and "Guide Me O Thou, Great Jehovah" on "The Arsenio Hall Show" in 1990.

"Hopefully one could have peace and knowing that Whitney Houston was a woman of God," she said. "No one is really exempt from the harsh realities of the world. She certainly understood that. But Whitney expressed her love for God. She knew where her strength was coming from and she showed it throughout the documentary."

FIRST AFRICAN AMERICAN APPOINTED CHAIRMAN OF SOCIETY OF COMMERCIAL REALTORS Longtime Local Realtor Proudly Accepts New Post

Timothy L. Williams, a longtime resident of Fort Worth and president of Trojan Commercial Real Estate, LLC, has been appointed Chairman of the Board of Governors for the Society of Commercial Realtors (SCR). He is the first African American to serve in that position in the organization's 35-year history.

A native of Evansville, IN., Williams moved to Fort Worth in 1979 to attend Tarrant County College, majoring in communications. Prior to joining Trojan CRE, he was an agent with Austin Company Commercial Real Estate for 17 years, during which time he developed skills and qualifications in sales and leasing, contract negotiations, buyers and tenant representation, and land assemblages, property management, real estate consulting and city zoning.

The SCR is the commercial realtor organization that operates independently under the auspices of the Greater Fort Worth Association of Realtors. It offers networking, education and deal-making opportunities for the commercial real estate practitioner.

Williams, who is also a member of the Greater Fort Worth Association of Realtors, said the greater Fort Worth area is growing rapidly with incredible economic opportunities, and SCR is positioned to be the voice of commercial real estate in the area.

"I'm honored to have been chosen to help lead the organization at this time," said Williams. "It's a great organization that was established in 1987 as the commercial real estate division of the Greater Fort Worth Association of Realtors."

Sing Your Way Through The Day by Jane H. Young / Faithwriters

What do you do when you find yourself in a depressed mood, feeling like you have no help, no hope and no way out? Maybe we should do as David did – sing. David's psalms show how a man of God prays during times of hardship, loss, joy, fear, it's through songs.

"The Lord will command His lovingkindness in the daytime; And His song will be with me in the night, A prayer to the God of my life." Psalms 42:8

"I will sing to the Lord as long as I live; I will sing praise to my God while I have my being." Psalms 104:33

Choose to sing unto the Lord a new song and reflect upon the good things He has done, and as you do, your mind will be renewed. Singing helps us repeat thoughts of God so His word can dwell in us and the over flow will be a witness of Gods love to those around us.

"Let the word of Christ richly dwell within you, with all wisdom teaching and admonishing one another with psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with thankfulness in your hearts to God." Colossians 3:16

Your mind might be struggling with negative thoughts and doubts, but that's all the more reason to sing and to reflect upon the good things God has done. Singing songs of praise will help renew your mind and put joy back in you life.

"Because He Lives"

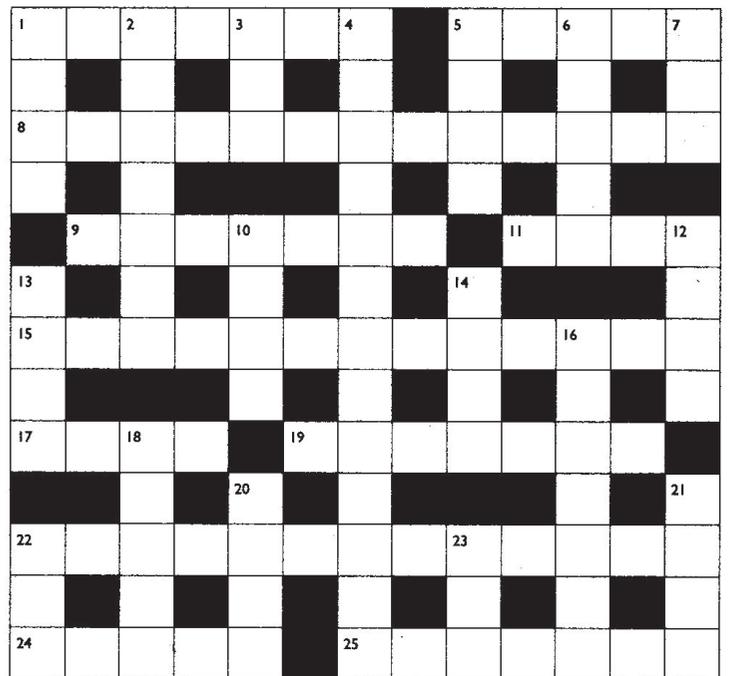

*God sent His son, they called Him, Jesus;
He came to love, heal and forgive;
He lived and died to buy my pardon,
An empty grave is there to prove my Savior lives!*

*Because He lives, I can face tomorrow.
Because He lives, All fear is gone.
Because I know He holds the future,
And life is worth the living just because He lives.*

This is just one of 1000's of beautiful worship songs. Find a few of your favorites and sing, when you feel down, you find yourself complaining, or you are just having a bad day, SING!!
